AMCP Strategic Priorities Quarterly Update

In the spring of 2021, AMCP introduced three strategic priorities that frame the immediate work that will help to get patients the medications they need at a cost they can afford. These priorities are vast and complex, so we have been deliberate in evaluating and defining how managed care pharmacy can affect positive change within each focus area. Take a look at the first quarterly update showcasing AMCP's accomplishments so far.

Why We Chose to be In-Person for AMCP Nexus 2021

Since March 2020, AMCP and the industry have made the conscious decision to focus on virtual meetings, remote learning, and digital networking to safeguard attendees, staff, and the communities in which we normally meet. But as vaccines have become available across the country, the team at AMCP and our Board deliberated what was best for our members, our staff, and our profession. Learn why we chose to hold Nexus 2021 in person and what precautions we are taking to keep attendees safe.

AMCP Statement on Allowing Pharmacists to Administer REGEN-COV

On Aug. 23, AMCP joined other pharmacy organizations in a letter to HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra requesting an immediate amendment to the PREP Act declaration on COVID-19. This amendment would allow pharmacists to order and administer REGEN-COV and future authorized products for the treatment of COVID-19.
